Course Description

Analysis of labor markets, utilizing economic theory and empirical techniques with applications to public policy. Topics include: investment in human capital; employee compensation issues; compensating wages; discrimination; unions; and institutions. Students will be expected to complete homework, one midterm, a paper proposal, peer edits, a paper presentation and an original final research paper related to labor markets.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Have a deeper understanding of labor market concepts.
2. Understand and implement a range of analytical tools when studying these concepts.

Homework Assignments

There will be four homework assignments during the semester to be presented in class. You may work on the homework assignments together. Homework questions will be posted on Canvas one week before they are due. Late homework will not be accepted.

Midterm

There will be one midterm in this course. If a student must miss the exam, this should be discussed with me at least one week ahead of time. In the event of an emergency, students should email me immediately and provide documentation ASAP. Please note that if a student misses an exam and I have not accepted a student's excuse, a grade of "0" will be given. If the absence is excused, the weight of the missing exam will be distributed across the remaining course material. Students should bring Green Books for the exam. Calculators are not permitted.

Paper Proposal, Final Paper, and Presentation

As part of this course, each student will propose and submit a research paper on a subject related to labor economics. The final paper is due to me by email and to Turnitin on the day of the university scheduled final exam, May 16, and should run between 10 to 12 pages of text, double spaced, Times New Roman font, size 12, 1 inch margins in a Word Document (.doc or .docx). Tables and references do not contribute to the page count. In order to prepare for the final paper, you will submit a 1 page proposal to me by March 1 stating the research question and hypothesis, data sources, methods, and five citations you plan to use (Canvas Template). I will then approve this proposal or require adjustments before you proceed. You do not have to wait until March 1 (and I recommend you don't!) to submit this proposal to me. The proposal operates on a PASS/FAIL basis. The first draft of your paper (minimum 5 pages) is due in class on April 5. You need to email me a copy to me and your peer edits partner before class so they have time to give you comments before peer edits are due the week after. It is your responsibility to both make sure your peer edits partner has a copy of your paper and that you have a paper to work on. Peer edits partners will be posted on Canvas the week before. If you do not have a paper for peer edits by the deadline, you must alert me on April 5. You may find McCloskey and Greenlaw particularly helpful when writing the proposal and final paper.

You will also give a short ten minute presentation on your paper on the last day of class. Your paper must be submitted to me and to Turnitin by May 16 to receive credit.

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Grading Information

The final grade in the course will be based on the following weights:

Category	Weight
Homework	40%
Midterm	20%
Paper Proposal	5%
First Draft	5%
Peer Edits	5%
Paper Presentation	5%
Final Paper	20%

These weights are fixed - improvement in other categories will not raise your grades elsewhere except as stated otherwise. Late work will not be accepted.

Grading Scale

A: 95-100 A-: 90-94

B+: 87-89 B: 84-86 B-: 80-83

C+: 77-79 C: 74-76 C-: 70-73

D: 60-69

F: <60

Classroom Protocol

Office Hours

The best way to contact me is by email at darwynn.deyo@sjsu.edu. My office hours are Thursday, 12:00 – 2:00pm in my office, DMH 142.

Academic Honesty

I take academic honesty very seriously and will follow the policies as published by SJSU. These policies are online and available at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/S07-2.htm>. It is the responsibility of the student to read and understand what constitutes a violation of the honor code. Claims of ignorance cannot be used to justify dishonest behaviors. All instances of academic dishonesty will be reported through the appropriate channels. In this course, any student caught engaging in activities which violate the honor code as written by the University will receive a semester grade of “F” for this course.

Disability Notice

Please see me as soon as possible if you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Disability Resource Center at <http://www.drc.sjsu.edu/> to establish a record of their disability.

Other Class Policies

1. Students will show respect at all times for others. Class will begin on time and end on time. As such, students are expected to be on time.
2. So as to minimize any disruption to class, ensure that any electronic devices you bring with you to class are set to not produce any sounds during class. This includes setting cell phones to vibrate or silent and muting the speakers on laptops and tablets. Students using their cell phones or laptops for non-class related activities will be asked to leave the room. If you are using a laptop or tablet, I also require that you sit in the front two rows of the class.
3. Students must use their SJSU email to communicate with me regarding course material and messages related to this class. I will make an effort to reply to emails related to the course within 48 hours, excepting weekends, but I will not accept email attachments from non-SJSU emails. Note that if your final paper is submitted from a non-SJSU email I will not accept it.
4. I primarily use Canvas for announcements, handouts, articles, and for students to submit their written work. I encourage students to use Criterion before submitting their final paper to me in order to minimize the number of revisions. Students must submit all final written work to Turnitin.

University Policies

Per University Policy S16-9, university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. will be available on Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs' Syllabus Information web page at <http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/>”

ECON 250-01 / Seminar in Labor Economics, Spring 2018 Course Schedule

My proposed schedule for the semester follows. If it proves too ambitious, I will try to simply say less about each topic rather than cut the topics for the final weeks. In addition to the textbook readings for each week, students should read the articles associated with each topic posted on Canvas.
